Yreka Jokes of Bill Bechdy.

A correspondent of the Butte Record, who is evidently an old resident of Yreka, speaking of Bill Bechdy's residence in Siskiyou, says:

He was a generous hearted fellow, that Bechdy—always full of fun and good humored as any person I have ever known. In the early days he went by the name of "Tucker," for reasons known to himself. [illegible] [illegible] as "Pike," "Biddy," and "Ruddo" [illegible]. Bechdy was a great lover of practical jokes. I will give you one which will suffice as a sample of many.

On one occasion, at Yreka, at about ten o'clock in the morning, a large grizzly bear was seen on the side of the mountain in front of the town, quietly making his way through the chaparral, and at once everybody was in arms, and more than a hundred men were getting their rifles ready and drinking on their revolvers, and all eager for the bear hunt. Some said the bear should be caught so surrounded the locality, and gradually come to a center where the bear was last seen, in order to make sure of him. This was done, but somehow the bear had eluded them and got away. All that day men were searching through the hillside in hopes of getting a shot at Bruin—but no bear was to be seen. Finally it leaked out that Bill Bechdy had dressed himself up in a bear skin, crawled about and was crawling around among the chaparral just long enough to be seen in full view of the town, then quietly slipped off, returned and got his skin off, joined in the big bear hunt.

One more: A man was digging around a hotel one day, in Yreka, to put down some [illegible]. Bechdy was looking on, and all he threw out the dirt from the hole, Bechdy quietly dropped about a dozen large pieces of gold on the top of the dirt, and then drew the man's attention to the matter and the chance that of the dirt he was throwing up. In less than two hours from that time the whole street was staked off into mining claims, and some were held at very high figures, and crowds were speculating on little knobs as to the most desirable way of getting water to work the various claims. Some proposed a joint stock company, and to bring the water from the Shasta river, some three miles away, to work out the immensely rich dirt. Finally after thinking the street up full of holes, it had to be told that it was only one of Bill Bechdy's "salts," and thus ended the new discovery of the wonderful dry diggings.

A Library "Hog Rampant."

The San Jose Mercury goes for the Public Library of that place as follows:

If the managers of the public library would not bring the institution into contempt, it would be well, for them in our judgment, to introduce some little spirit of liberality in its affairs. The daily papers of this city, during the past two years, have published columns of gratuitous matter for the benefit of the library. The Mercury wrote up the recent tournament, in advance, and we freely gave it our columns and circulation to make it the success that it was. And yet when we sent in a bill for advertising a half column for some three weeks, at an agreed price of $38, they have our bill cut down to $3.80. The Patriot, we understand, was subjected to a like reduction. Here is another sample of the "piggery" spirit animating this institution:

Mr. C. E. Hensley donated the use of his hall to the Library Committee for a ball, and then the Committee wanted to bring in the good knights to send him a complimentary ticket, but compelled him not to pay a dollar to enter his own hall, and all came to get in at admittance to the Fair Grounds. The Knights who rode at the tournament, and who spent days in practicing to afford the public a pleasing entertainment, were required to pay $5 each for the use of their uniforms, and $1 50 for their lances, and then in their evening's lies were denied admission to the ball without the payment of a dollar for each. The boys rebelled against this indignity, and, we believe, received their ball money back. When it is remembered that the library cleared over $1100 by the 4th of July, we think the managers in view of their "penny-wise" policy, should now erect a shield over the entrance to the library rooms, on which we suggest they have painted a hog rampant.

General Bidwell as a Water Monopolist.

General Bidwell has notified the enterprising people of Butte who are contemplating a [illegible] to convey the timber of the Sierra to Chico at cheap rates that they shall not take or use a drop of the water of the streams, springs or rivulets on any portion of the watershed that falls into Chico creek! This water which the people want to utilize for this purpose is twenty-five to thirty miles away from his lands, sporting in rebellion on the mountain's side; yet General Bidwell claims it as his own. And such is the chief candidate of the anti-monopoly party of California! Can our esteemed friends of the Chico [illegible] of the San Francisco Chronicle defend him in this water monopoly, as they have attempted to defend him in his land monopoly? Thus it appears that Gen. Bidwell is not only a land monopolist but a water monopolist also, and he would, it seems, possess the water he has no right to possess the lands—without just title. Would he do it, in fact, as he holds the land, not to use it, but to prevent others from making it useful. And yet this is man of this dog-in-the-manger policy hopes to become the Chief Executive of the progressive State of California.—S. [illegible]

A Sensible Young Man.

The sensible young man is now living near Council Bluffs, Iowa. Not long ago he became involved in a quarrel with a rival and different men, and chained together on one to mortal combat. All accepted, and were upon the ground in time. Then the hero of the affair said he wouldn't fight them all at once, but would fight the best man of the lot. The five began discussing the question of who was the best man, and got to fighting. They struggled over the subject for about a quarter of an hour, the champion all along not to get as arranged, and when the question was finally settled, the best man's body would have been whipped by anybody, and wasn't ready to fight. The challenger walked off with all the honors, and was pleased with it. This is the story, as does probably not [illegible]

THE TRAGIC REPETITION OF HISTORY.

We were not present at any time during the State Democratic Convention, and therefore our information is ... assemblage ... all ... We have been told and have read that it was "a good deal of a ... revival" ... history repeating itself in this State. Certainly the ticket ... complexion ... with the exception of the candidate for Governor. But we were not prepared to believe it was told us a day or two ago ... that the notorious D. S. Terry, the professionally cold-blooded murderer of Broderick, was a most conspicuous person in the late Democratic convention. We can stand the rapture of the national House of Representatives, ... rebel ... fought in the ... of the rebellion, ... they believed to be right, but there is something altogether painful and ... to see this man Terry return here and revive the story of the most ... incident in California history. The papers of ... have been ... the ... of that professional ... Casanova, ... notoriety—for the ... of the statesman and patriot ... but we have ... mention of ... slavery of Broderick, ... his ... before the people of California in ... manner described.

There is a large element of the Republican party in California that seems to be determined to turn the government, State and national, over to the men who did all in their power to destroy both. Perhaps, when the "reconstructed" ... have ... got possession of the leading branches of government, ... will ... through politics, if nothing worse, ... what they ... by the sword—the ... will fall from the eyes of these Republicans ... and ... forgiving ... their ... polls ... It is possible, however, that David S. Terry is entirely penitent ... and that he was not a conspicuous actor in the ... convention. As before said, we did not see him there.

Salt Lake City, July 13.—It is rumored that John D. New York, July 13.—A dispatch from Raleigh, N. ANOTHER BOY CRUSHED.

An Unsuccessful Attempt of a Newsboy to Stop a Train of Cars with His Arm—The Wheel and Trucks Uninjured and the Arm Not Entirely Destroyed—A Very Unlucky Family.

One of those accidents which, although painful to the unfortunate party sustaining it, affords the local item-izer more or less gratification occurred yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. A boy named Jones, who peddled newspapers, jumped from the train while in motion, and was thrown partly under the car. His arm fell under a wheel and the wheel ran along about six inches, wounding it frightfully. The little fellow was conveyed to his home, where medical attendance was promptly furnished. Dr. Luck, who is attending upon the sufferer informs us that, although the muscular tissues of the arm were badly bruised and mutilated, the bones and tendons are uninjured and the symptoms were favorable this morning. No serious consequences are apprehended. This branch of the Jones family seems to be particularly unfortunate. One of their children is crippled by a spinal affection, another had a leg shot off about a year ago, while hunting, and the father has been thrown from a horse and laid up with a sprained ankle. Yesterday at ... they received a telegram announcing that ... Cook ... brother of Mrs. Jones, had been killed by the bursting of a boiler ... Stockton. Bad luck enough for one day.

About that Regatta.

The Transcript this morning states that at the California Theater Boat Club Picnic at Badger's Park on Thursday next a boat race will take place between the Enterprise and the Mystic Boat Clubs of this city for a purse of $100. The statement is entirely correct, with the exception that the race will not be for a purse of any kind whatever. The young gentlemen composing the club in question disclaim any desire to appear in the role of professionals. They will contest ... for the exercise and the ... amusement of their friends. The race will be ... from the ... between the ... Badger's wharf, a distance of nearly two miles. Mr. Badger has erected an amphitheater of seats for ... the purpose of giving a ... view of the entire race.

Nothing in it.

Deputy District Attorney Vrooman went up to Livermore yesterday to prosecute a charge of House-stealing against Mr. Clark, of Murray township. It was alleged that Mr. Clark bought a lot from Mr. Eslon and bought a house also from Mr. Eslon to build a house on the lot. A few days ago Mr. Clark put the house ... Upon taking a ... Mr. Vrooman concluded that there was nothing in it, dismissed the case and returned to Oakland somewhat disgusted.

Street Work.

The following resolutions relating to street work were adopted by the City Council on Monday evening:

Of intention to order the grading, curbing of Railroad avenue, between Wood and Center.

Of intention to order four-foot plank sidewalks on both sides of ... street, from ... to Division streets.

The Unknown Dead.

The body of the man who committed suicide at Alameda the day before yesterday and that of the woman found drowned, are still lying at Hallner's undertaking establishment. The Coroner's jury in the case of the woman and the cause of her death is being investigated. There are suspicions of foul play, and an attempt is being made to unravel the mystery. Experienced persons say that the body could not have been in the water more than twenty-four hours, and the discoloration of the face was owing to the head lying lower than the feet so that the blood settled in the face. The Coroner's Jury adjourned until to-morrow when it is hoped that the police, who are trying to work the case up, will be able to throw some light on the dark mystery. The body was found on the bay side of Alameda Island near the ... Bath House. There was found in the pocket of the woman's dress a ... thimble, two rows of pins, a few needles and a five cent piece. The Transcript ought to be more careful in giving descriptions in such instances. Its statement this morning in the case of the woman was entirely wrong and calculated to mislead people. There was no excuse for its blunder, because an accurate description was published in the TRIBUNE of last evening. Unless identified, both bodies will have a county burial to-morrow.

Startling Intelligence.

Our valued morning contemporary on Ninth street, this morning startled the community with the following:

"There were twenty-two children in each of the ... the primary ... of the Lafayette school. ... Monday. It is now ... the school authorities ... to ... the ... over ... classes ... ."

As soon as our attention had been called to this paragraph we rushed to ... Lafayette School ... to take the dying confessions of ... and ... found the teachers of the eighth grade looking remarkably fresh, and to all appearances free from ... Instead of being ... with the ... of twenty-two children each, they were going along cheerfully and smoothly—one having sixty-nine pupils under her charge and the other sixty-eight. If the public ... the female teachers of Lafayette School, they are doomed to disappointment, and it is but due to ... of the News to ... any such false hopes.
